Mrs. B. F. Boling is on the sick list.
Rabbit and bird hunting is the order of the day in Toliver.
I. W. Sorrell, of Clifty, was taking in the sights at Toliver Sunday.
G. G. Cox, W. T. Wills and J. S. Cox, of Toliver, have gone to Beaver to work.
Douglas Catron and Hamilton Old, of Pomeroyton, took in the meeting Sunday.
A meeting will begin at the Greasy creek school house Wednesday night. Everybody invited.
S. E. Vaughn and Dr. Neville, of Campton, were over on a bird hunt, making pictures and extracting teeth.
Misses Lou Havens, Lena Cecil and Lou E. Bryant were the guests of Miss Nannie Mannin Sunday, and taking in the meeting.
A fortune teller was in Toliver last week telling fortunes for the boys, but some of them pronounced him a story teller instead.
Misses Carrie and Etta Swango, of the springs, were at the meeting at Sandfield Sunday and took dinner with J. B. McNabb and wife.
Nov. 23. SHINER.

Swango Springs Sayings.
Mrs. Ellen Kash visited in these parts last week.
Mrs. W. T. Swango was a pleasant visitor among us last week.
Mrs. Lark Lowe and little Nannie Swango are on the sick list this week.
Uncle Harry Swango and wife spent part of last week visiting in Maytown.
Misses Lula and Rhoda Samples, of Laurel, visited their sister, Miss Rebecca, Saturday night.
Walker Lowe, who has been in Morgan county for some time, paid his parents a two days visit last week.
Miss Mollie Swango and her brother, Ernest, spent from Thursday till Sunday visiting friends and relatives at White Oak.
Carl and Bruce, sons of D. B. May and wife, of White Oak, are the guests of their cousins, Ernest and Perry Swango, this week.
Quite a crowd from here went to Hazel Green Sunday night to hear Rev. J. R. Word, and were very much pleased with his sermon.
Misses Callie Oney, Lula Taulbee, Cornia Bise and her brother, John, J. F. Wood and daughter, Miss Hulda, attended the services on Lacy creek Sunday.
Misses Nettie Wheeler and Mollie Haney, with several others from Hazel Green, were enjoying the scenery and partaking of the health giving waters of the Springs, Sunday afternoon.
H. H. Swango and Hiram Blankenship started this morning with the household plunder of Rev. W. T. South, of color, who is moving to Hope, Montgomery county, where he will make his future home, having charge of a church at that place.

Amanda, Sarah and Dory Brooks were visiting their grandfather, J. E. Brooks, one day last week.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Caney and daughter Arabella, were visiting on this side of the ridge one day last week.

Rev. James Little and wife, of Jackson, were visiting J. C. Alexander and family Saturday and Sunday.

John Sebastian, who left here Saturday to accompany his aunt, Sarah Shock, and Mr. Burton to England, returned Monday after going as far as the Stillwater bridge. John seems to be delighted with his trip but glad to get home again.

John Brooks shot a fine red fox one day last week, but after carrying the fox home a distance of two miles, he thought he would have a chase, as the fox was not quite dead. So calling up his hounds he dropped the fox and away he (the fox) went. The last time seen the fox was going up Red river, near Lee City.

Last Friday night Drue Lacy dreamed that he died and went to heaven, and was talking with Jeremiah, the prophet, when some one knocked on the door. "Come," said Jeremiah, "but first who's there?" "Squire John Rose," said a voice clear and distinct. "Well," said Jeremiah, "You had better go back down yonder to that other world and attend to your courts. Billy Blankenship is in here and I can't let you in. You defeated him in the other world, but you can't do it here. "John, do you ever read the bible?" "I read the new testament some time." "Do you ever read the old bible?" "No sir." "When you go back read the 8th chapter and 7th verse of Jeremiah, and you will find these words: 'Yes, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people knew not the judgment of the Lord.' Neither do they know what a man will do when he is elected to office."

Nov. 23. MOUNTAIN BOY.

A Quick Piece of Work.

Kelly Jordan and Floyd Barker, who were charged with robbing Mrs. Lou Goldiron, an account of which appears elsewhere, went before the court Tuesday evening and confessed. The jury fixed their punishment at two years each in the penitentiary at Frankfort, and the sheriff yesterday morning started to that place with them. Taken altogether this is a record hard to beat for rapidity. They were arrested on Saturday, spent Sunday in the calaboose of Hazel Green, were indicted at West Liberty on Monday, sentenced on Tuesday, started en route Wednesday and landed in the pen Thursday. Judge Kinner is a hustler, and no mistake, and the case reminds us of the lines in an old song:

"Saturday night I stole a horse,
On Sunday I was taken;
Monday was my trial day,
And Tuesday hung my bacon."

Meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E.

The active members of the Y. P. S. C. E. will meet on Tuesday at 6:30 p. m., in the study of the Home. The topic for the evening is "Intemperance." The following program will be carried out. Leader, Wm. H. Cord. Scriptures bearing on various forms of intemperance will be read by Misses Ford, James, Maxey, and Messrs. Adams and Roark and Mrs. Cord. Papers on the subject will be read by Miss Wheeler and Carl Mize. Every active member is urged to be present, as business of importance will come up for consideration. Bring your bibles with you. Come in the spirit.

Trying to Keep the Wolfe Away.

If those "debt paying" "good as the bank" men who owe us on subscription would pay us in money, meat, potatoes, corn, or some other produce they would enable us to pay some honest debts and keep the wolfe, which is already gnawing at the porch posts, away from the door. But they must be p. d. q. about it or he will pass the portals before they arrive. Prompt action will give us much to be thankful for, and as this is thanksgiving day it is a mighty good time to pay.

An Artist and Poet.

Samuel J. Wilson, the poet laureate of the mountains and artist of Hazel Green, has just given the furniture of the Day House a hard oil finish, and the effect is magical. It looks like new, and Sam says he can take any old thing in the furniture line and make it look as good as new. A trial is all he asks, and as he works very reasonable those who wish to put a new face on old furniture can do so at little cost.

He Still Loves the Ladies.

Dr. Rudolphus Gardner, of Jackson, passed through here Saturday en route home from West Liberty. The doctor is just as young and handsome as he used to be when a resident of Hazel Green several years since, and apparently as fond of ladies. At least, in conversation with THE HERALD, he inquired about the health of a gay and handsome widow in this vicinity, and thus we judge him.

A Bunch of Hogs for Jackson.

J. G. Yocum and Curtis Oldfield passed through here yesterday with a bunch of 18 hogs which they were driving to Jackson. Five of them, including four shoats, were not weighed, but 13 of the bunch averaged 223 pounds. They cost something over $3 per hundred pounds. Mr. Yocum will sell or trade them for cattle, a bunch of which he hopes to bring back on his return from Breathitt.

Dr. Nickell Gets the Postoffice.

Dr. Andy C. Nickell was appointed postmaster at this place last Saturday, vice H. F. Pieratt, removed by reason of expiration of term of four years. This information was received here Tuesday evening and is official, as it appears in a circular issued by the postoffice department giving appointments and removals each day. Just when he will assume the duties of the office depends upon the receipt of his commission, the filing of his bond, etc., and it is possible that he may not be installed before the beginning of the new year. His appointment renders general satisfaction, and his friends were congratulating him Tuesday evening and yesterday on his good luck.

A Morgan Farm For Sale.

Elsewhere in this paper is advertised a farm of 175 acres which should command the attention of any and every man who wants a nice place. It is the Miles Kash farm, 4 miles below Ezel, on Blackwater. Mr. Green Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, now owns it and wants to sell it. Indeed he is anxious to sell it, and so anxious that we believe it can be bought on exceedingly low terms. Write Mr. Trimble about it, if you are in earnest about buying a farm, and you will be surprised how easy you can buy and pay for it.

A Bargain for Some Man.

A bargain is offered somebody in the sale of the McGuire farm, or a part of it, which will take place on Saturday, December 4, under the auspices of Master Commissioner Vassant, of the Wolfe circuit court. Embracing 210 acres, 60 of which is cleared and under good fencing, the balance well timbered, and on the place a fine coal bank, this should prove a valuable purchase to some enterprising man. The terms of 6, 12, and 18 months are quite liberal and will aid the purchaser to pay for it.

An Excellent Teacher.

Miss Lula Kash has been selected as teacher for the Frank Johnson school on Lacy creek, and will fill out the unexpired time of Miss Lou Byrd, who married and abandoned the school room for her household duties. The trustees are to be congratulated on securing the services of Miss Kash, as she is one of the best teachers in Eastern Kentucky and one among the few holding a state certificate. Her experience as an instructor covers a period of nine years or more. She opened school Tuesday morning.

Quit Painting to Farm.

Will Alexander who is visiting friends and acquaintances here, used to live at Mt. Sterling, and followed house painting for a livelihood. With his father, who was killed in Montgomery, he did several jobs here, the Mize and McGuire residences. But he has quit painting now for more profitable employment, and is farming at Streeter, Ill., where, he says, any good farmer can net $1,000 a year, and added that if the people there worked as hard as people here do they would soon all be rich.

Texas and Kentucky Taulbees.

Dr. Breck Taulbee, of Mt. Sterling, who has been visiting his father, Major Taulbee, of Morgan county, since Friday last, was a guest of the Day House Sunday night, together with his cousin, Frank Taulbee, of Georgetown, Texas, who has been visiting his uncle, Major Taulbee, also, for a week or so. They both left Monday morning for Mt. Sterling, and from there Frank Taulbee will go on to Logan, W. Va., to take depositions in the case of one of his clients in Texas.

Stuck on Soldiering.

Miles and Wes Taulbee, who some three years since enlisted in the U. S. army and were located at a fort in Texas, recently finished their terms of enlistment and re-enlisted for three years more. Miles is now located at San Antonio, Texas, and Wes is at Fort Thomas, in this state. The many friends of these two young men in this section were somewhat surprised and disappointed that they did not visit here before again joining the service.

Likes a Soldier's Life.

Mrs. Ellen Pieratt a few days since received a letter from her son Curtis, who is in the U. S. army and located at the Presidio of San Francisco, Cal. Curt writes that he likes army life first rate.

Arrested for Robbing a Widow.

Mrs. Lou Goldiron, a widow living on the Murphy fork, was last week robbed of $23 in cash, some notes, due bills, etc., and upon discovering her loss at once suspected Kelly Jordan, her nephew, for whom she at once had a warrant issued. The warrant was placed in the hands of Mort Swango, town marshal, who deputized Neale Nickell to assist in the arrest. After the warrant was issued it was learned that Floyd Barker was implicated in the steal and the officers at once began a search for the two. After hunting the woods and probable haunts of the two in and around Hazel Green, they learned late Friday evening that they had been seen on the road to Campton. That night they followed and on Saturday morning about sunrise arrested Jordan and Barker at Martin's mill, two miles below Terrent. Barker had on his person $10 of the missing money and Jordan $5. The latter had spent $4.50 for a suit of clothes and between them they had disposed of some for liquor, a supply of which they had at the time the arrest was made. Officers Swango and Nickell brought their prisoners to this place Saturday evening and placed them in the calaboose for safe keeping over Sunday. En route, however, Jordan produced the pocket book which he had thrown away, and later on, at another place, got the notes and due bills. The prisoners were taken to West Liberty Monday morning, and as circuit court is now in session at that place the presumption is that they will have a speedy trial. Jordan a few days prior to the theft of the money stole a bushel and a half of meal from the mill of Judge G. B. Swango and took it to the home of his mother, who then lived on Uncle Pres. Trimble's place, where Judge Swango a few moments later found it. He is also accused of shucking out and carrying away two shocks of corn from the field of Curt Lacy. Besides the above he stole a dollar from the editor's wife by going to her and representing that he could get her ten nice chickens if she would give him the money. He got it and went on his way, leaving our better- to mourn the loss of the dollar and regret that she did not get the chickens.

Barker was a few years since arrested on account of passing counterfeit nickels, but at his trial before Judge Barr, of the United States court at Louisville, was dismissed, the judge holding that on account of his youth he had probably been duped into doing as he had.

This is the criminal history of the two as THE HERALD hears it, and the people here will rejoice that they are rid of them for a spell, at least.

They were indicted in the Morgan circuit court Monday and their trial set for 10 o'clock yesterday morning, bail in each case being fixed at $500, failing to give which they were sent to jail.

The Ship Sailed Without Them.

Mrs. Sarah Swango, widow of Hiram Swango and a sister-in-law of J. Henry Sebastian, left here Saturday morning accompanied by her nephew, John Sebastian, for London, England, where she goes to claim one million dollars of the Burton estate, for which she has a voucher. John Burton, of Breathitt, is one of the heirs to the estate, which amounts to many millions. He is infatuated with Mrs. Swango and has promised her three million to marry him, giving her one in advance. She refuses to submit to the tying of the nuptial knot, however, until she finds the estate to be a reality, but chaperoned by her nephew, as above stated, has gone to England with Mr. Burton to investigate.

LATER.—Since the above was put in type we learn that Mr. Burton met Mrs. Swango and insisted that she marry him at once. As the wealth was not in sight she very promptly declined to do so, and he in turn refused to foot the expense of the European tour. The trip and the wedding are therefore indefinitely postponed. Mr. Burton is 72 years of age,

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will no them good." Sold by J. T. Day.

THE HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, Nov. 25, 1897

SPENCER COOPER, owner and editor of THE HERALD, this week assumed active management of both the editorial and business departments, neither of which have had his full attention for sometime owing to his business interests on Eagle Creek (T), along the banks of which he spent most of his time in recreation and a search for health, neither of which he found, in fact. He remounts the tripod now with a largely reduced revenue but chock full of determination, and if his friends will help him hold up his head and his hands he will again give you the "dear old HERALD" week after week and clothe it in all the pristine beauty which it used to wear when it was the acknowledged premier among papers in all these parts. But he must have your support—moral and material—if you would have him succeed. Can you, will you help him? If so, delay not the hour or the day, but come to his aid at once. Pay him if you owe him; if not, extend him your patronage with one hand and the cash with the other. It takes money to run a paper, and you know his ambition is to make his best. Shall we help him to do so? Let us forgive and forget. He has done wrong, grievously so, perhaps, but has the moral courage to admit it and crave your mercy and your pardon. Can we, as a God-fearing, enlightened christian people, refuse to grant his plea? Remember that angels even have fallen from grace, and surely no one should consider him infallible. That we have not sinned is probably because we have never been tempted as he was, and remembering the pitfalls all along our pathway in life, let us rescue him, with the hope that should occasion offer (which God grant may never be) he will do as well by us or our's. He has promised to do his part and surely we can do ours by meeting him half way. Aye, let us do even better than that, and go into the highways and byways, the hills and hollows, and find yet others who will aid him, for truly he is weak and needs to be succored that he be sustained. With charity for all and malice toward none, he commissions us to say that he is ready and willing to extend to all his good right. In the same spirit let us meet and fellowship him.

GEORGE B. CLAY, of Pike county, is a candidate for the nomination for congress in this the 10th district, and goes before the people unshackled in any way whatever. Since he arrived at manhood estate, and he is now 34 years of age, he has always been a Democrat—in fact, knows no other politics. As an evidence of his ability it is sufficient to say that he was made delegate to the last national convention from this district, which was certainly a distinguished honor, when it is considered that the district abounds with young men of brains. He was thus in touch and very much in evidence with everything that happened at the convention which nominated William Jennings Bryan. As to his fidelity it is only necessary here to state that when Judge Beckner was a candidate for congress, the convention being held at Beattyville, he was the delegate from his county, and by change of horses and hard driving reached the convention in time to present his credentials, though forced to overcome many obstacles en route. That ride brought him the name Paul Revere, and well he deserved it, when difficulties he encountered are considered. Pike county is the largest in the state, always has supported the Democratic nominee for congress, but has never had the honor of naming a native for the place. Now she presents Mr. Clay, asks for him your confidence, and promises in event of his nomination to roll up the biggest Democratic majority ever accorded any man in the district. Individually Mr. Clay is a gentleman of fine presence and address—a man who will personally preposess any one, either in civil life or in congress. He is sober, discreet, always ready at the call of duty, be it daylight or midnight, and always will be where and when Democracy is involved. Such men deserve recognition, and of him we will sometime have more to say.

Old papers 20 cents per hundred.

Our friend C. B. Hill, of Beattyville, is out in a hard announcing his candidacy for enrolling clerk of the lower house of the next general assembly, and we hope he may pluck the coveted plum. There is not in Kentucky, perhaps, any man who has done so much for Democracy and got so little in return as Breck Hill, and yet he is always ready. His service as county clerk, his practice as attorney and his experience as county judge of Lee county all combine to fit him for the place to which he aspires in a degree seldom attained by any man, and if exactness be a qualification for the office he should certainly have the endorsement of every representative who would avoid mistakes and delays. He is a rapid writer and a perfect penman, which, coupled with his experience, should be also considered. Nothing more need be said of his ability, but to these representatives who have never had the good fortune to meet him, we can say he is a most genial gentleman, an entertaining conversationalist and an accomplished "story teller." This is his picture, gentlemen, and the prize is yours for the choice. Breck's a beaut., boys, and no mistake. He's a peach of the clingstone variety, and ripe in richness.

THE Democrats carried every congressional district in Kentucky but the 11th, the majority by districts being as below: First, 6,862; Second, 3,648; Third, 810; Fourth, 1,816; Fifth, 1,119; Sixth, 4,110; Seventh, 6,099; Eighth, 621; Ninth, 806; Tenth, 1,549; Eleventh (R.), 11,235. The official vote in the Tenth district was as follows:

	Shackelford.	Bailey.
Breathitt.....	1,242	791
Clark.....	2,113	1,697
Elliott.....	1,173	483
Estill.....	989	1,145
Floyd.....	1,397	1,092
Johnson.....	967	1,617
Knott.....	646	396
Lee.....	653	806
Martin.....	247	705
Magoffin.....	857	1,246
Menefee.....	601	384
Montgomery.....	1,597	1,243
Morgan.....	1,338	930
Pike.....	1,988	2,106
Powell.....	672	597
Wolfe.....	856	643
Totals.....	17,417	15,868

Taking the Shackelford-Bailey vote as a basis, the indications are that the next Kentucky delegation in congress will be solidly Democratic, excepting, of course, the Eleventh, which is irredeemable from Republican rule. THE HERALD will help make all of them Democratic. Now, will you help THE HERALD?

SOUTH TRIMBLE, representative-elect from Franklin county, is a candidate for speaker of the next house of representatives, subject to a Democratic caucus of that body, and judging by the perfumery of the bouquets the state press has been pitching him, he will get there with both feet. Nothing that could happen in the political passing of prizes would please the people of Wolfe county and Hazel Green more. A native of this town and county, the people here have watched his progress with parental care and very naturally hold for him a pardonable pride. THE HERALD has frequently mentioned his qualifications and advertised his ability in this connection, and it is now only necessary to refer our readers to an article published elsewhere in this issue which is reproduced from the Frankfort Ledger, his home paper, to verify what we now say and have heretofore said, viz: That if elected to the speaker's chair he will honor the state, honor his constituents and honor himself. Now, honor bright, what more could be said?

THE jubilee edition of the Tacoma Daily Ledger, celebrating the eighth anniversary of Washington's statehood is certainly one of the finest boom editions of a paper it has ever been our pleasure to read. It was issued on Nov. 17, 1897, and consists of 24 7-column pages, which are replete with the resources of Washington, and every article is written in a masterly manner. It also treats largely of Alaskan possibilities, especially the Klondike gold fields. If you wish to know all about Washington write for the anniversary edition of the Tacoma Daily Ledger.

A SOCIETY paper in Lexington says: "A dainty lunch was served at the end of a rubber." Up here we call it "a jerk-back," but only resort to it when meat is very scarce. Then each of the family tastes a bacon rind "at the end of a rubber" until it is jerked back by the next in line. And can it be possible that the enlightened elite of Lexington, "the Athens of the west," are just now catching on to a custom in use in mountain society since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary? Well, people!

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bing Hampton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

The Largest Fire in Two Centuries.

London was visited Friday afternoon by the largest fire for more than two centuries. The fire started near the site where the great conflagration of 1666 originated, and raged for five hours. The loss is estimated at $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, 150 valuable warehouses, a number of business blocks and a few dwelling houses being burned. The district burned was the center of the dry goods district. The Church of St. Giles, the scene of the burial of Milton and the marriage of Cromwell, narrowly escaped. No loss of life is reported. The fire is supposed to have originated from an explosion of gas due to a search for a leak that was being made by a naked lamp in an umbrella maker's shop on Hamsell street. An area of about seven acres was swept by the flames.—Louisville Dispatch.

FARM FOR SALE.

I offer for sale, on liberal terms, my farm lying on Blackwater, four miles below Ezel, known as the Miles Kash farm, 175 acres of which is the most valuable tract of unimproved land in Morgan county, with timber on it sufficient to pay for the land. I will divide the land to suit purchasers, and sell the improved part separate. Inquire of STEVE PIERATT, Ezel, Ky., or address

THE HERALD.

LOCAL LISTINGS.

P. Lacy, of Lee City, was in town Sunday.

Emery James is suffering from a very sore throat.

Judge Carson, of Lacy creek, was in town Monday.

W. J. Wallis is complaining of something like flux.

Don't forget the printer, but bring on those provisions.

Miss Lilly Rose, of Lacy creek, was in town shopping Monday.

Mrs. Joe Miller, of the Murphy fork, was in town shopping yesterday.

School at the academy adjourned yesterday evening till Monday morning.

Ed. Armitage, of Frenchburg, was a visitor here for a few days last week.

Hon. D. S. Godsey was visiting his wife at this place the first of the week.

Frank Kash, of Oakdale, is visiting his father, Dr. J. M. Kash and family.

Prof. H. C. Quicksall and Willie H. Pieratt paid Ezel a flying visit Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Duke was in town Saturday selling premium starch with success.

John Testor, of Stillwater, and A. T. Combs, of Campton, were in town Monday.

Rev. J. H. Wallin and father-in-law, Charles Fallen, passed through here last week.

Sam and Dick Russell made a flying business trip to Maytown yesterday afternoon.

George Sallee, who was recently elected assessor of Wolfe county, was in town Monday.

Mrs. A. C. Cope, of Frozen creek, is visiting the family of Dr. J. A. Taulbee this week.

Newt Vaughn and son, of Campton, spent Sunday with Judge Carson, on Lacy creek.

Rollin Kash, esq., of this place, left Monday afternoon to attend circuit court at West Liberty.

Taylor Whaley has been moping about for a few days past, his complaint being something akin to flux.

Misses Rosa Little and Lizzie Linden, of Gillmore creek, paid this office a pleasant visit Tuesday.

Thos. Lee and wife, of this place, visited Ves Norman and wife, of Morgan county, one day last week.

Robert J. McLin is in Louisville buying a winter stock of goods for the J. T. Day stores here and at Torrent.

Rev. J. H. Wallin will preach at the Presbyterian church in this place next Sunday, it being the regular day.

Dr. Nickell says that every boy baby born since the election is a Democrat, and seems very much discouraged at the outlook.

Tom Hall, who has been living on the Elsberry Little place, on Gillmore, on Tuesday moved to the farm of Jeff M. Rose, of Lacy creek.

A. F. Byrd and A. H. Stamper, two of Campton's leading attorneys, passed through here Sunday en route to West Liberty to attend circuit court.

J. M. Pieratt is still suffering severely from rheumatism, notwithstanding the fact that he consulted Sol Adams and his laying on of hands.

We still have a quantity of good newspapers on hand which are just the thing to paper the walls of your cabin. Only 5 cents for a package of 25.

Dr. Nickell reports the birth of a boy baby to the wife of Enoch Bush, of Lacy creek, on Friday morning last, and says he is a Democratic recruit.

Dr. Silas Kash reports the birth of a boy to the wife of Mrs. James Taylor, on Sunday, the 14th inst., and says he forgot to tell about it last week.

Henry Pieratt killed one of the fattest sheep Tuesday ever seen in this section, and will please accept our thanks for a delicate dish off the hindquarters.

For Sale—A first class improved White sewing machine, with all attachments and g. + 1 as new; cost $45 but will be sold for $25. Apply at this office.

Harve Nickell has accepted a position as clerk in the store of W. T. Caskey, of this place, and entered upon his duties on Monday morning. Harve is one of the oldest clerks in the mountains, and has the reputation of being one of the best salesmen. Mr. Caskey is, therefore, to be congratulated upon securing his services, and we hope he may secure a good trade in consequence. An ad. in THE HERALD, by the way, would also help wonderfully.

Henry Wilson, overseer of the state road from Dayboro to the county line, has just blewed the rock out on the big hill running through Ned Little's farm, and the road is said to be as good now as any in the county. It was an eyesore before. He used 18 pounds of powder and 25 feet of fuse in the work, but as the job is a permanent one and entirely satisfactory it will prove an economical expenditure for the county.

John Craven, of Rothwell, was here Sunday and again chewing that old, old chestnut about the extension of the coal road. He says it is a go this time sure, and that the road will undoubtedly be extended 12 miles or more in the near future. God speed the hour, and the people hereabouts will be glad to aid the enterprise, if there be really anything in it. Shove her along, John.

If there ever was a time since the foundation of the world when a poor sinner needed help now is that time and the editor of this paper is the man—or sinner. We need what is owing us on subscription, and if you are in arrears please call and settle your account. We need your help every way and will be glad to have it by your patronage and your pay.

Uncle Hugh Coldiron, who makes his home with his nephew, Crock Coldiron, near town, is confined to his home with a carbuncle on his neck, which is said to be of the severest type. He suffers the most excruciating pain, notwithstanding his physician, Dr. J. M. Kash, is doing all he can to ameliorate his condition.

Charley Swango, who was connected with the Nashville centennial exposition from its opening to the close, came home Saturday for a short visit but left again Monday for Louisville, where he today plays in a match game of foot ball with the Nashville team, of which he is the captain, and another team.

A picnic was held on Sunday last at the cave on Major W. H. Taulbee's farm, about 6 miles above Hazel Green, in Morgan county, which was attended by 100 or more. This is an annual feature with the people of that section but why or for what we are unable just now to say.

Kelley Jordan, the young man arrested for stealing from his aunt, Mrs. Lou Coldiron, is a son of one Dr. Jordan, who used to go up and down this country and cure, or pretend to cure, all manner of disease by the laying on of hands, which, perhaps, accounts for Kelley's propensity.

Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is an important addition to the list of the world's most valuable medicines. Harmless in its nature, yet almost infallible in its action, it is undoubtedly the most efficacious means known today of curing coughs, colds, and kindred diseases.

Rev. J. R. Word, pastor of the M. E. Church South, held his first meeting at the Rose school house on Lacy creek Sunday and was greeted with quite a gathering of the good people of the neighborhood. He also preached at this place on Sunday night.

Miss Ada Cecil, daughter of our friend Oscar Cecil, near town, was shopping in town Monday. She has been an invalid for a year or more, and in that time been from home but seldom. She is now the picture of health and her cheeks bear the bloom of youth.

Sam Dorman, the polite and accommodating colored porter of the Day House, arrived home Monday and assumed his duties, after a week's absence, during which he courted the belles on the head of the river and had "a jolly good time," as he puts it.

Floyd Bailey left yesterday afternoon for Magoffin county to visit his wife and family and sympathize with his cousin, Jim Bailey, who was recently defeated by Sam Shackelford for the appellate court clerkship.

Eliza Chambers and daughter, Mrs. McClure, of Stillwater, passed through here Monday on their way to West Liberty, where Mr. Chambers has a suit in circuit court for the recovery of land.

Quite a number of the boarders at the Home are taking advantage of the two days holiday, and spending the time with their parents.

Right now to have my pay;
Reader, what do you say?

Lost—On the streets of Hazel Green, Nov. 24, a plain gold ring. Finder will be rewarded by leaving with Ed Taulbee at postoffice.

Luther Day, a student of the academy, left yesterday for a visit to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Day, of Frozen creek, and will return Sunday.

Walter Armstrong, representing the notion and gents' furnishing goods house of George & Co., Knoxville, Tenn., was a guest of the Day House Tuesday night.

John H. Pieratt will tomorrow leave for Jackson, where he is engaged as auctioneer to sell the Riverside Hotel, furniture, etc., on Saturday at 10 o'clock a. m.

Hon. J. C. Lykins, of Campton, passed through here Saturday for West Liberty. Court opened at that place on Monday, and Mr. Lykins is attorney in a suit there.

Elders J. M. Adams, of Frenchburg, and H. D. Adams of this place, will begin a series of meetings at White Oak, Morgan county, Saturday night, November 27.

Dr. Nickell reports that little Mattie Evans, who has been very ill of fever since Saturday week, is improving, and thinks with careful nursing she will soon be well.

Boone Hurst and wife, of Stillwater, visited Mrs. Hurst's mother, Mrs. Isaac Murphy, of the Murphy fork, over Sunday and passed through here Monday en route home.

Lindsay Ware, who has been swinging around the Illinois country fair circuit with his running horse, writes that he has been quite successful and will be home this week.

Robert Nickell, who has been confined to his bed for ten months past with consumption, is now able to sit up some. He is a son of Andy Nickell, of the Cox mill neighborhood.

Frye's natural geographies have been adopted for use in the academy, and will be introduced in the classes on January 4, 1898. They take the place of the eclectic geographies.

Elder H. D. Adams is erecting a dwelling house on the farm near town which he recently bought of Ed. F. Cecil, and says he has come to stay and "sing the songs of Zion."

Monroe Havens went to Frenchburg Sunday to bring home Miss Lula Kash, who has been visiting relatives and friends at Mt. Sterling, Moorefield and other points, and returned Monday.

Mrs. Silas Kash, who was on the sick list last week is now able to be about her household duties, and requests us to say that she has the finest display of hats and bonnets ever seen in this section.

Topics for sermons at the Christian church Sunday are "Imitators of God," at 11 a. m., and "Seeing Greater Things at 6:30 p. m. All are invited to be present at both services and all will be made welcome.

TRAINING AND FEED STABLE.

I have opened my Training and Feed Stable, and will keep on hand plenty of feed and a full supply of vehicles and traps. Parties coming here from a distance, who may desire horses pastured for a few days or weeks can have the best pasture at reasonable rates.

LIVERY STABLE.

Also, for the convenience and accommodation of guests of the Day House, I have opened near-by a first-class Livery Stable, where I will keep Buggies, Saddle Horses and Hacks for hire at all times. Persons wishing a vehicle to meet them at Torrent can telephone me and have any desired vehicle or saddle horse promptly. I will also have a full supply of hacks for hire to drummers, in charge of careful drivers, for which they can contract by the day for any length of time. Persons intending to visit Swango Spring will be met at either Rothwell or Torrent with team and driver, and I will have pleasure in shipping water for them whenever desired. J. TAYLOR DAY.

The negro tapster of Knight's saloon, at Fulton, says the Mayfield Mirror, had a sensational experience. He went into the cellar with a lamp to draw a jug, and the whisky took fire as it was running out of the barrel. The negro caught fire and was badly burned, and it required no little effort to prevent the destruction of the building.

Two young fellows of this community concluded a few nights since that they would have a turkey feast, and repaired to the turkey roost of Sebron Trimble, of Lacy creek, to get the turkey. They secured a fine fat gobbler and took him to another place and had him cooked. The next day Mr. Trimble heard where his turkey had gone and was about to issue a warrant for their arrest when they compromised the matter by paying Mr. Trimble $2 for his turkey. Turkey feasts come high, but some people will have them at any cost.
